Dear ZhangYu,

unluckily, I could just confirm that the current DataWarrior installation (4.7.2) for Windows is not compatible with the new Java 10 update. Evidently the JRE folder structure changes such that the java binary is not recognized anymore. Macintosh and Linux should not be affected.

We will try to get an update for Windows as quickly as possible. For the time being you may uninstall JRE 10 and use the latest Java 8 instead or just wait for the DataWarrior update.

Sorry for that,

Thomas
