Subject: Averaging Values in three columns
Posted by ELFritzen on Fri, 14 Aug 2020 21:19:03 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I'd like to average the values contained in three different columns into a new calculated column. The expression I use is (Column1+Column2+Column3)/3 to set up the calculated column. The calculated column only returns values when there is a value in each of the columns. Is there a way to write the expression that will return an average when one of the values was not determined?
Thanks,
Ed