All,

After installing DataWarrior 5.5, the application simply does not run on a Windows 10 system. Some investigation does show that it is erroring out, but the only indication with no detail is in the Windows event logs (the generic BEX64 error).

We have attempted to run with elevated permissions with the same result. We have also reinstalled the application with no luck. We can also confirm that antivirus software is not reporting any issues relating to DataWarrior.

Any further suggestions/advice would be appreciated.
