Hi Thomas

Thank you very much for making the changes. I would like to try the update but I am a chemist not a programmer.

So what do I do?

Are you saying that the latest download includes the changes you have made i.e., I simply click the download button for Windows from <https://openmolecules.org/datawarrior/download.html> and use this version?

or are you saying that I have to download a "patch" if so where do I get that from and how do I install it.

Many thanks

Jon

I am using a PC with Windows
