
Subject: Generate 2D atom coordinates gives overlapping atoms

Posted by mcmc on Tue, 31 Jan 2023 11:01:26 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have some bridged piperazines that get redrawn in a way that atoms are overlapping with the attached heterocycle upon generating 2D atom coords (which I do to superimpose the compounds in a set).

Hard to explain in words, but picture attached.

If these overlapping atoms could be avoided, that would be much appreciated.

File Attachments

1) bridged ring funky.jpg, downloaded 550 times
