Thank you for the suggestions Thomas. I did confirm md5-sum. Things got weirder--yesterday I upgraded from Windows10 to 11, and right after the update the first thing I did was click DW--and it worked! I opened a DW data file fine last night, and was planning on playing around more today...But it stopped working today. Same issue as before--nothing happens when I clicked or run as administrator. I have not installed anything since yesterday.

So I uninstalled DW550 and installed the latest DW600. Still the same issue. No error message when start from cmd line either. No record of antivirus software trying to block it.

Thanks again in advance for any suggestions!
