Hi Johanne,

thank you for sending the file. The problem was an invalid setting for the splitting proportion between data area and filter area. I updated DataWarrior allow and correct invalid values. You may download updated files from openmolecules.org/datawarrior/dw500win.zip or openmolecules.org/datawarrior/dw500x.zip (Windows or Mac/Linux).

Sorry for the inconvenience. Alternatively you may open your dwar file in a text editor and replace the line close to the end:
<rightSplitting="1.2609">
with <rightSplitting="1.0">

That would also do it,

Thomas
