Subject: Re: suggest: adjustment .sdf export
Posted by thomas on Sat, 23 May 2020 10:48:35 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Thank you very much for the detailed description of the problem. I have fixed the issue and in the next update it will be included. The behaviour is now to replace any NEWLINE characters by a '; ' string when writing the content of an associated compound name column into the first line of the molfile. When DataWarrior reads an SD-File with these entries again, it recognizes the names as separate ones again, because for DataWarrior the '; ' is a natural separator.