cLogD requires a pKa prediction, which DataWarrior cannot do itself yet. However, DataWarrior may use the commercial ChemAxon pKa-plugin to do the prediction. If the DataWarrior installation folder contains a capka.jar file, which contains the needed ChemAxon software, then cLogD and pKa prediction are enabled.