Dear DataWarrior tem

thank you for sharing this amazing software!

Is there any way to easily reorganize the filters on the right panel (moving one up or down)? for now the only solution I have is to delete them all and re-add them one by one in the correct order.

Best

Alfred

Dear Alfred,

thank you for the remark. You are right I also stumbled over this nuisance a couple of times.

Some kind of a workaround may be to open the dwar file in a text editor, scroll to the <datawarrior properties> section at the end of the file and change the filter index numbers from e.g.:

```
<filter0="#browser# #disabled#">
<filter1="#reaction# Reaction">
<filter2="#structure#products Reaction">
<filterAnimation0="state=stopped delay=500">
```

to

```
<filter2="#browser# #disabled#">
<filter1="#reaction# Reaction">
<filter0="#structure#products Reaction">
<filterAnimation2="state=stopped delay=500">

(Note that the filterAnimationX tag that belongs to the browser filter also needs to be changed)

I realize that is is not an acceptable way of doing it and I will look into adding some drag&drop support.
