Subject: Hide legends

Dear Thomas

Thanks for your answer to my previous question. I already have another one, or rather a suggestion : it would be useful to hide part of the legend on the graphical views to reflect a data selection (via the filters or from the table view). When you have a big set of data but only want to display a subset on a graph, it is not optimal that you still have all the legends and not just those you are interested in. Do you think it is feasible?

Thanks again for all the work and the sharing.

Alfred
