Hi,
Is it possible to loop over a set of columns and carry out an operation without having to do each column individually. I have two use cases;

Case 1 - After a core based SAR analysis find all structure columns and create the corresponding smiles code.

Case 2 - Find all numerical columns and do a round function.

Many thanks in advance,

Angus

Hi Angus,

while I see the use of it, I regret to say, this cannot be done currently. It would need improved looping and variable handling in macros.
